Realtors and CD Meet To Agree On Guest Plan

Carmel's realtors met with Civilian Defense leaders yesterday to pledge cooperation and vote funds with which to send a man through the Stanford civilian defense school.

Chief topic at the meeting was the question of who is to instruct summer visitors in Carmel's Civilian Defense precautions. It was decided that the realtors should do it, and Corum Jackson was empowered to appoint a supervising committee which will see that the work is carried out.

The twenty real estate people present also expressed interest in the handling of incendiary bombs, and were promised a demonstration by Mayor Keith Evans. One of the regular Civilian Defense teachers will give the special instruction.

The realtors promised full cooperation in the clean-up drive to be conducted May 2-11 by Civilian Defense for the purpose of clearing all inflammable rubbish from the town.

Schools to Take Pine Cone Over For Own Edition

Students from the high school and the adult classes will take over The Pine Cone and publish their annual School Edition April 24, a month earlier than usual.

The date was advanced to coincide with education week and to avoid the crowding of activities that result when the paper is put out in the busy weeks before the closing of school.

For this edition boy and girl reporters will cover the spot news, giving Carmel a student's-eye-view of itself. The editorial page will carry youth's uncomplicated and frank opinion of the activities of its elders. Poetry will break the middle of the editorial page as (Continued on page 9)

Legion Votes Cost Of Defense School Course for 1 Man

At its meeting Monday night the American Legion voted the cost of sending a man for seven days to the Civilian Defense school to start April 19 at Stanford under the direction of the war department.

The candidate will be chosen at a meeting of the Carmel Civilian Defense heads with three representatives of the Legion. Some difficulty has been encountered in finding a suitable man, according to Fred McIndoe, one of the committee of three from the Legion, because he will have to be someone who can spare a week from his own work, also someone who on his return would be able to teach here in town what he learned at the school.

E. H. Ewig and Corum Jackson are the other members of the Legion committee.

ELECT IDA NEWBERRY

Many of her supporters want her elected because she was Perry Newberry's wife, and Perry Newberry is beloved in memory as he was appreciated in life in this community. Undoubtedly she has many of the same hopes and ideals for Carmel that were Perry's. That is a fine thing, and if elected it will be good for Carmel if she is able to carry them out.

But The Pine Cone is supporting her not because she was Perry Newberry's wife, nor because she may have some of Perry's ideals. The Pine Cone supports Ida Newberry because she is herself, a quiet, decisive and capable individual, and because she is a WOMAN.

The city council needs a woman. It needs a woman for the job of commissioner of health and safety.

Caring for health and watching over the safety of others has always been woman's work. Her nature inclines her toward it, and since man or woman works better at a job the heart is in, the preservation of health and safety of the community would have more attention to detail, and more genuine interest from a woman than from a man.

Mrs. Newberry is qualified by training as well as inclination to handle problems of health and safety. She is a public health nurse who has kept up with her profession, and who is now giving part of her time as nurse to a private school in Monterey.

Elect Ida Newberry to the city council so she can look after the health and safety of the community. Give a woman a woman's job.

ELECT McCREERY

In a town where eighty per cent of the people don't want any streets and one hundred per cent of the people don't want to spend a dime on streets, he has somehow kept the streets in condition so that people can drive over them with a reasonable chance of getting from here to there without too disastrous a strain on backbone and rubber.

He has planted trees hopefully and consistently just about neck and neck with the people who insist on cutting down trees to (Continued On Page Six)

R. C. to Rehearse Disaster Work Saturday in Plaza

On Saturday afternoon from one to four the Carmel chapter of the Red Cross will demonstrate in Devendorf Plaza how it would function in an emergency.

Participating will be the Carmel people who make up the ambulance service, first aid units, mobile canteen units, the registration and information service of the staff assistants corps, and the messenger and guide service furnished by the Junior Red Cross.

Units of each of the services will set up equipment and demonstrate its operation.

Festival Chorus Now in Rehearsal

The Bach Festival Chorus is in rehearsal on Monday evenings at Sunset School in preparation for the Eighth Annual Bach Festival to be held July 20-26.

Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous are urging singers and chorus members to attend these preliminary rehearsals as the Usigli rehearsals will begin next month, according to the arrangements made in a conference with Gastone Usigli who will conduct the Festival again this year.

Kuster Readings Will be Repeated Tuesday Evening

Edward Kuster gave so excellent a performance Friday afternoon at an informal gathering at the Greenroom that many of the fifty people who had the pleasure of hearing his readings have urged him to present the program to a larger audience.

The program will be repeated at the Playhouse Tuesday evening, April 14th, at 8:15.

As a director and producer, Kuster, who was at one time associated with Max Reinhardt's Theatre Workshop, has done much for Carmel in theatre work. His Golden Bough, until it was destroyed by fire, attracted attention throughout the state to local dramatic activities, so much so that it has become a symbol of the high point of drama in Carmel.

FIRE SIREN TEST SATURDAY

The fire siren will be tested at 12 noon Saturday.

Police Commissioner Bernard Rowntree begs the populace not to telephone the police and fire departments, when they hear the practice blasts.

3 Pine Cone Candidates Backed By City Leaders

Tuesday, April 14, Carmel will vote for three out of five candidates for city council. It will also vote for two members of the board of directors for the Monterey District Airport.

Since there is no contest in the district airport election, attention has been concentrated on the council competition. Of the five candidates, The Pine Cone has picked Fred McIndoe, Ida Newberry and P. A. McCreery as the most likely prospects. Through the news columns and editorials The Pine Cone has acquainted the voters with the qualifications of these candidates and stated why they are The Pine Cone's choice.

Airport Directors Up for Election

In addition to electing three councilmen Tuesday, Carmel will vote for two directors for the Monterey District Airport board.

This is the first election since the county supervisors appointed the board members last March. Fred McIndoe and Charles Frost, short term incumbents, are on the ballot to succeed themselves. There are no contestants.

Fire Hazards Go; Clean Up Week Set for May 11

Note: Reference is made on the editorial page to "the two last council meetings." This council meeting is not to be construed as one of the "two last" as the editorial in question was written before this meeting took place.

Councilman P. A. McCreery, acting mayor in the absence of Keith Evans, proclaimed May 2 to 11 city Clean Up week at the council meeting Wednesday night.

The council passed a motion to authorize Chief Roy Fraties to create an auxiliary police force and appoint as members the 35 citizens who have been attending the class of instruction in police work. Special mention was made of the high grades the members made in first aid examinations.

A list of standard prices and requirements for the rental of the Forest Theatre was presented and the council went on record approving it.

Thirty dollars is to be charged for one performance, afternoon or evening, $25 each for two performances. Three or more performances, $20 each.

A $50 deposit is to be made to cover damage or breakage and the renter is to pay the power costs.

A Sign on Curb
It was moved by Councilman Rowntree, seconded by Councilman Godwin and unanimously carried that the application of Gunnar and Barbara Norberg for permission to erect a directional sign on the curb outside the Dolores street and Ocean avenue entrances to the Las Tiendas court be granted on the condition that the Business Association approve the granting of the application and bear the expense of constructing the sign, and that the design and construction of the sign be approved. (Continued on page 4)

Now, in this last issue before election, The Pine Cone has called upon the sponsors of the candidates to come forward and state why they believe the man or the woman whose application for candidacy they signed is suited to serve on the city council.

Clara N. Kellogg, who endorsed two of the candidates states:

"It gave me great pleasure to sign the petition to put Mrs. Newberry's name on the list of candidates for the city council. I know her to be a clear-thinking woman with the best interests of Carmel at heart. If elected, as I am sure she will be, she will work harmoniously with other members of the council to keep this a beautiful and interesting place in which to live.

"An endorsement of Mr. McCreery needs no explanation. His efficient work as street commissioner these past two years as well as his close attention to all the problems of city government and his well-considered stand on important matters mark him as one who could ill be spared from the council. Having especial appreciation of his street work, I was glad to have an opportunity to stand as one sponsor on his petition."

THE DOGS DO BARK

The local belles got an Easter treat when DANNY Keel-Brooks came down from San Mateo for the week-end with his owners, Miss Margurite Keel and Mrs. Kathleen Brooks. DANNY'S handsome appearance, his golden hair and "Charles Boyer" eyes, make him the subject of much feminine admiration wherever he goes.

DANNY further charms the ladies with his clever parlor tricks which range from juggling a biscuit on his nose to executing an exceedingly graceful waltz.

DANNY loves to come to Carmel to get away from the hectic social whirl of San Mateo where he is one of the leading lights of the Cocker set.

WINNIE Jeffers, the big white English bull-dog who lives at Tor House, went to San Francisco a few days ago with Robinson and Una Jeffers, members of his family. He had occasion to walk several blocks in the shopping district during the busy noon hour and was much gratified with his reception. On all sides he heard, "There's WINSTON CHURCHILL," and "Good old WINNIE!" He always enjoys the smiles on the faces of people when they see him trundling down the street.

POP EYE, the once dignified setter who has become a familiar sight wildly racing cars up Ocean Avenue, discovered that if he really wanted to "go Carmel" he would have to find some form of artistic expression. After experimenting with this and that, he decided upon singing — and Grand Opera at that!

So now he serenades the neighborhood at night with the operatic outpourings of his "artistic" soul.

There is a very intriguing young lady who has recently come to the Village. She is here, incognito, but our sleuths found out that her first name is PAXIE, and that she is an English fox-hound, the daughter of one of the members of a pack of fox-hounds that Mrs. Victor MacLaglen had presented to Fort Ord.

PAXIE is a most charming and engaging youngster and would be a delightful addition to the young "Lolly Pop Lickers."

That handsome young gentleman seen about the company of Miss Genieve Geer is BROWNIE, the English setter who adopted her. Before she came to Carmel, Miss Geer lived next door to BROWNIE in Salt Lake City. BROWNIE used to admire her tremendously. Sometimes they would go walking together and people would remark what a handsome couple they made because Miss Geer's lovely red hair was a stunning compliment to BROWNIE's red and white coat. BROWNIE finally decided that he had better adopt Miss Geer, so he moved over to her house and has been her

Three Local Women Will Attend League's Northern Conference

Every aspect of local alien evacuation—from relief needs of evacuees to the question of whether American citizens of Japanese descent will be allowed to vote throughout the war—was combed over by the Study Group of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Vera Peck Millis.

Reports were heard from Miss Orre Hazetne, Miss Lydia Weld, Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston, Mrs. Millis, and others, while Mrs. Ritter Holman of Point Lobos presided.

The general subject of aliens will be one of the more important topics of the League's Northern Conference at Stanford April 15 and of the state convention in May. How the question is developed at the Stanford meeting will be reported back to the local League by Mrs. John P. Sandholdt, president, Mrs. Millis and Miss Hazetne.

Those who attended this week's session were Mrs. Ida Newberry, Mrs. Lee Kellogg, Miss Clara Kellogg, Mrs. Louis Ralston, Mrs. Cranston, Miss Weld, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Sandholdt, the Misses Colvin, Mrs. Elstner Hilton, Miss Hazetne, Miss L. L. Turner and Agnes Williston.

Not Russian Now, Says Piatigorsky

Piatigorsky, who plays for the Carmel Music Society's concluding concert of the year in the Sunset School Auditorium on Saturday evening, April 18, is recognized as "the greatest living cellist."

"I do not like to be called the young Russian cellist any more," says Gregor Piatigorsky. "I have my first papers for American citizenship since the spring of 1937." The celebrated player says he studies American history and politics, and that America is his spiritual home.

Piatigorsky's program will include major works for the cello as well as short compositions showing the various moods which the cello evokes. The Sonata in C major of Boccherini, Sonata in E minor of Brahms, and Chopin's Introduction and Poonaise Brillante will be among the program numbers.

MAYOR EVANS REVIEWS

Monday Mayor Keith Evans reviewed Monterey's long and shining Army Day parade from the official stand with Colonel Roger S. Fitch, Fort Ord commandant, Mayors Emmet McMenamin of Monterey and E. K. Bramblett of Pacific Grove, and Congresswoman Mrs. Chester C. Bolton of Cleveland.

constant companion ever since. And they certainly do make a stunning pair as they stroll up Ocean Avenue.

Friends of FERDIE PUFFER Frolich will be happy to hear that he is on the road to recovery after being gravely ill. Poor FERDIE was the victim of a cruel dog poisoner.

Book Review

Carl Van Vechten has called him the poet laureate of the Negro. In the first seven poems of his new volume, Shakespeare in Harlem, Langston Hughes is any man's poet laureate. He tells the story of a man whose wife has left him. He tells it with simplicity, power and humor, and with a complete understanding of the average man's emotional reactions.

The group is called Seven Moments of Love. The poems take anyman through seven emotional crises that arise when he has to face the ordinary events of his life without the woman he is accustomed to have at his side to share them. The events, and also the titles of the poems: Twilight Reverie, Supper Time, Bed Time, Day-break, Sunday, Pay Day and Letter.

The next group of fourteen — Declarations — is light, some of them almost flimsy. The Death in Harlem group is stronger, reminiscent of our realistic playwrights, specifically Eugene O'Neil in his middle period. Mammy Songs group takes us down south and sings the story of race prejudice and Negro suffering. Two other collections, Ballads, and Blues for Ladies, bring us back to Harlem and tell of men who have loved worthless women and women who have loved worthless men, until the reader wonders if the dwellers of Harlem ever achieve a happy mating.

The poet finally pays tribute to love in the last poem of the book, the finish of the Lenox Avenue octet, in which he calls it a wild wonder—stars that sing—a spark dying in the dark.

Shakespeare in Harlem should succeed with a larger audience than is usually attracted to poetry. Hughes' subject is people, an eternally popular subject, and he knows his subject thoroughly. He presents it with simplicity, freshness and color warmed with an undercurrent of amusement that is the outgrowth of his understanding of the vagaries of human beings.—Wilma Cook.

Breakers Are Rough With Girl Swimmers

Barbara Stockton and Virginia Campbell little guessed where they were going when they dove into the surf Saturday afternoon.

With a helping hand from Officers Frank Hay and Ralph Casserly, the two girls, vacationers from the University of California, landed at the Presidio hospital where Miss Stockton was treated for cuts suffered when a big wave threw her against the rocks.

Woman's Club Flower Show Success; Helen Cranston Re-elected President

In the fragrant and gaily colored surroundings of a spring flower show, Carmel Woman's Club heard the nominating committee's choice of new officers Monday.

Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston was named to succeed herself as president. Since there were no nominations from the floor, the election of Mrs. Cranston and the committee's other nominees at the May meeting of the club will be automatic.

Mrs. William Francis Halyard was selected for the office of vice

Ambulance Crew Saves Boy's Life

Thanks to a heroic rescue by the Carmel Red Cross ambulance crew, the victim of an accidental shooting in the Santa Lucia mountains is resting comfortably today at Peninsula Community Hospital.

Eighteen-year-old Norman Lee of Salinas was shot in the chest with a .22 caliber bullet by companions while on a hunting trip April 2. The accident occurred in the rough Bixby creek country which is inaccessible by car.

Fire Chief Vincent Torres and Captain Fred Mylar drove the Red Cross ambulance to within two miles of the scene and hurried in on foot with stretcher and first aid supplies. They, with the aid of William Post, Jr., and Charles H. Snyder of the highway maintenance crew, and Lee's companions, Ed Van Cleave, Frank Kearstead and Marvin Breschini, carried the unconscious boy out and had him in the hospital two and a half hours after the shooting.

Kuster Readings Will be Repeated Tuesday Evening

(Continued from page 1) work was exceptional because of his enthusiasm for the material he was interpreting: John Steinbeck's "The Moon Is Down," Robinson Jeffers' "Be Angry at the Sun," Homer Lea's "The Valor of Ignorance" and "The Day of the Saxon," and Maurice Browne's exquisite reverie over peacetime Burma, Ceylon and Tibet entitled "I Remember."

Steinbeck, Jeffers and Browne, all friends of Edward Kuster, were identified with this Peninsula long before they became world figures in literature and drama, and Homer Lea, the little hunch-back Chinese general whose prophetic and ominous books are now going into new editions computed in the hundreds of thousands, was Kuster's friend and classmate in 1895 in Los Angeles High School.

At ten fifteen Tuesday, after the program, the Playhouse will be turned over to the audience for coffee, music and conversation.

"Sand in the Gears," a talk on the detection of incipient tuberculosis, will be given Carmel P. T. A. Tuesday by Miss Violet Elazarian, public health nurse and executive secretary of the Monterey County Tuberculosis Association.

Other business of the meeting will be the nominating committee's report and the election of officers and planning for the P. T. A. flower show in May.

Mrs. Horace Dormody, chairman for the show, asks that the shops and individuals outside the association who intend to exhibit flower arrangements kindly communicate with her.

P. T. A. members that have started plants which they will exhibit are requested to notify the chairman for their species. These department chairmen are:

Adult School

Added Techniques

Oil and water colors have been added to the techniques being taught by John Cunningham in the Monday and Wednesday evening classes of the Carmel Adult School. A different model is presented each time to give variety and present new problems. Cunningham gives individual assistance to those whose needs call for it, or provides facilities for those who wish to practice in the stimulating group atmosphere. Instruction is free.

Morning Class

For those who cannot study first aid in the evening the Carmel Adult School has started a class which meets at ten o'clock on Tuesday and Friday mornings in the library at Sunset School. The instructor is Dr. Kate Gompertz of Pacific Grove, who has just completed several courses on the Peninsula. This course is the standard, or beginners' course. Students may enter as late as Tuesday, April 14.

Radio Contest Finalist Will Star With Male Chorus

A sixteen-year-old concert violinist, Miss Dolores Miller of Livermore, will be the soloist with the Peninsula Male Chorus at its annual concert Sunday afternoon, April 26.

Miss Miller has just finished with two others at the head of the national competition for a scholarship at the Juillard School of Music. And her playing on this occasion was heard in a country wide broadcast over Station KPO. At her Carmel appearance, the youthful violinist will be accompanied by Mrs. E. M. Young of Salinas.

The concert will be held in Sunset auditorium at 3 p.m., April 26, and Jaffrey Harris, founder of the Peninsula Male Chorus, will conduct this second annual recital for the public. Tickets, which are free, may be obtained from all members of the chorus.

Fire Hazards Go; Clean Up Week Set for May 11

proved by Councilman Godwin.

Clean Up of Fire Hazards

The object of Clean Up week, according to Councilman McCreery, is to encourage the citizens to dispose of trash on their premises and eliminate fire hazards. All refuse will be carted away free if the householders will sort it into three piles and leave it on the edge of the street. One pile that is to be made up only of brush, dead limbs and garden refuse—only material that can be used by the city as filler material to be covered by dirt—will be hauled away by city trucks. A second pile constituting miscellaneous junk will be hauled away by the garbage company at a low cost to be paid by the city. The third: rags, rubber and aluminum will be carted away by Alan Campbell.

Absent property owners will be notified of the clean up drive, and if they fail to make provision for cleaning up their lots and property, it will be done by the city and the cost added to the property owners' tax bill.

Red Cross Demonstration

The Red Cross was granted permission to use the city park for a demonstration Saturday, and Chief Fraties instructed to prohibit parking on the north side of Ocean between Junipero and Mission during the demonstration.

Councilman Rowntree announced the testing of the siren scheduled Saturday noon.

It was decided to donate the water for the irrigation of the Girl Scouts' victory garden, and announcement was made that the editorial staff of the Scoop would present their play in the Forest Theatre May ninth, with adult supervision, admission ten cents and all money over expenses to go to the Red Cross.

After some discussion as to who should be held responsible for the bill for material for the blacking out of the post office skylights, the council decided to pay it on City Attorney Hudson's observation that they were legally obliged to do so under the circumstances.

Council granted permission that the Newell and Johnson signs be replaced. Decided to cut down two dead pines and refused to take out the one on Tenth and Lincoln.

They adjourned until April 21 when the votes will be canvassed, the absentee ballots opened and counted, unfinished business closed up, the old council disbanded and the new one sworn in.

A program that will display Lester Donahue's virtuosity to advantage has been arranged for his Sunday evening concert at the Playhouse.

Book Review

If you are the sort of person who didn't have time to "take" geology in college, if you are the sort of person who gets excited to discover that but for a peculiarity in the rock formation in the vicinity of the Golden Gate, the whole central valley of California would be an inland sea with Sacramento, Stockton and Bakersfield fathoms deep under brine, if you are either of these people—I am both—you will enjoy Adventures in Scenery, by Daniel E. Willard, a geology and guide book of California fluffed up until you hardly recognize it for what it is, solid information.

You are a native Californian? Then the foreword and the first chapters will puff you up with a fine feeling of satisfaction. You have been in the habit of taking all this scenery that is your birthright as a matter of course. Now, along comes this easterner and goes overboard. Very pleasant reading for the natives. The effect it will produce on the outlander will probably be to induce him to pack his grip and catch the train to California. And he'll take the book along to read over again on the train so he won't miss any bets when he gets to this land of scenery, climate and geological wonders.

And that's the point of the book, the geological wonders. For the scenery is simply the result of geological upheavals making mountains, torrents of water making canyons, and glaciers putting in their two-bits worth. And people who go around saying "old as the hills" don't know what they are talking about. The hills are young in geological time—infants.

From scenery the author proceeds to oil and gold, natural subjects in any geological discussion, and plentifully evident in the territory he chose for his geological adventuring.

His final chapter, "Geology From a Motor Car," is a general round-up, an imaginary trip up one side of the state and down the other over the main highways with side trips to points of interest. One subheading of the chapter is "Paso Robles Canyon Between Upper and Lower Salinas Valleys," another, "Soledad, Salinas, and Watsonville on Broad River Terrace."

Good reading for anyone, especially good reading for the native who can go along with him in memory and discover what makes the scenery tick.—Wilma Cook.

Adventures in Scenery, Daniel E. Willard. The Jaques Cattell Press, Lancaster, Pa. $3.00.

HOW TO USE BRAKES

Sudden and strong use of the brakes when a tire blows out may cause the car to swerve and overturn, warns the emergency road service of the California State Automobile Association. When a blowout occurs the brakes should be applied cautiously, with the steering wheel held firmly by both hands until the car is brought under control.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

By EDITH H. BRATTIN

If you are a beginner at seed sowing here are some almost fool-proof seeds that may be sown now. Godetias, Centaurea cyanea (cornflowers), Candytuft, Mignonette, Linaria (annual varieites), Calipsois, Virginia Stock and Sweet Allysium.

If you are a newcomer to Carmel, remember that our summers are cool and therefore prevent uniform good luck with Verbenas, Zinnias, Chrysanthemums and many of the plants which require midsummer heat. At the same time the cool summers are more than favorable to such lovely things as Pelargoniums, Begonias, Ferns, Cinerarias and Fuchsias.

Daffodil leaves are always a problem now, to keep them from shading small plants near them or to keep them from sprawling untidily. I have found that braiding 8 or 10 leaves and tucking the tip of the braid down and under at the base not only looks neat but lets the sun in to other plants near them. If braiding sounds like too much work, tie 5 or 6 leaves in a single loop, the braids are handsome but the loop will do the trick too.

Our two most pesky weeds, Sorrel and Oxalis, must have every thread removed or they will pop through again. Oxalis is the most difficult to control for the tiny plants start setting seeds before they are hardly large enough to notice. Turning under these two weeds only encourages them to spread. Watch for them and dig them out carefully.

Perennials such as Michaelmass Daisies, Shasta Daisy, Heleniums and Boltonia should be divided and reset each spring for showy results. Discard last year's center and replant only the best new sideshoots. Plant them in a well fertilized soil and start staking them early.

Pat Cunningham Week-Ends—

An instructor in the art department at the University of California this spring, Patricia Cunningham came home to spend Easter with her husband, John, and small son, Tony, out on the Point.

SIX CARMEL MEN ENLIST IN NAVY

Six Carmel men joined the navy in March, C. F. Burckhardt, Salinas recruiter, reported this week.

Eugene Robert Foley, Johnnie Jim Torres, Clyde Haskell Warren, Henry Wallace Warrington, Henry George Zimmerman of Carmel and Llewellyn Palmer Griffith of Big Sur are listed among the 69 men who joined up through the Salinas Recruiting Sub-station during the month.

This is an increase of six men over the 63 enlistments handled through the Salinas office in February.

Churches . . .

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, April 12, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The Golden Text will be: "The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him," (James 5:15).

Other Bible citations will include: "And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand . . . And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm," (Acts 28: 3, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Love, which made harmless the poisonous viper, which delivered men from the boiling oil, from the fiery furnace, from the jaws of the lion, can heal the sick in every age and triumph over sin and death," (p. 243).

CHURCH OF THE WAYFARER

At the Church of the Wayfarer next Sunday morning the sermon theme of Dr. James E. Crowther, the Pastor, will be, "Utopia Begins With You." We are prone to depend on external circumstances for success or happiness, whereas the real achievement is in conquering our inner spirit. "The Kingdom of God is within you." Margaret Sherman Lea will play the following organ selections, each by Rogers: "Pastorale," "Andante," and "Carillon." Visitors are cordially invited to share the hour of worship with us.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Next Sunday—8 a. m. the Service of the Holy Communion. At 9:30 a. m. Junior Church and School and at 11:00 a. m. the Service of Morning Prayer with Sermon message by the Rector, Rev. C. J. Hulsewé. Due to the fact that the weather conditions made church attendance impossible for many on Easter Sunday, much of the Easter music will be repeated including the early Christian Easter Carol "Joy dawned again on Easter Day—Translated from the Latin by John Mason Neale. The full Vested Choir will participate in this service.

Thursday, April 16, 2:00 p. m. meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary Red Cross Sewing.

make room for three houses on a piece of land designed by nature and the exigencies of privacy for only one house.

Through all this he has maintained the even tenor of an amiable disposition, exploding only at times of extreme provocation.

For his conscientious handling of a tough and thankless assignment the citizens should be grateful, and since he is graciously willing to continue with it, the citizens should jump at the chance to put him back in office, and they probably will.

McCreery has The Pine Cone's vote.

ELECT McINDOE

This is a very imperfect world. If there is anything in it without a flaw, I can't name it right off. Certainly it is not the city administration, excellent as it has been.

And until an organization is perfect, it has no right to ask to be allowed to function without opposition or constructive criticism. To say that the council should be all of one piece of mind so that things will be done smoothly and quickly is to say that it is either infallible, or its mistakes don't matter.

I know the council isn't infallible. I saw it make two mistakes in its two last meetings simply because the matter under consideration wasn't considered. It takes opposition and criticism to air a proposal so that its advantages and disadvantages can be studied and weighed. These two propositions had no consideration nor discussion whatever. They were passed with a speed and efficiency that would have done credit to the workings of a national socialistic bureaucracy. Which would have been very well indeed if they had been good measures, but they were mistakes. And mistakes in city government matter. They matter to me and to a good many other people who are beginning to mutter in their beards about the errors I myself have found so annoying.

We have a good and efficient mayor. And he's to be kept in office on the public promise of a majority of the candidates up for election and of the hold-over councilman—fine!

We have a hold-over councilman who works well with the mayor — fine! McCreery should be returned to office. He's the best man for the job he has held for two years. He works well with the mayor — fine! Newberry will fit well with the administration, and she is ideally suited to handle the job she should have, that of commissioner of health and safety — fine!

But that's as far as we're going with the mayor.

At this point we need to inject into the proceedings a loud and firm "No."

The Pine Cone offers you Fred McIndoe.

AND NOW DEMOCRACY

You have our picks for council and our reasons for choosing them. We have considered them carefully and we think we're right, but from here on it's up to you.

You can agree with us and go down to the polls and vote for McCreery, McIndoe and Newberry. You will be good citizens, deserving of the democratic government you enjoy.

You can disagree with us and go down to the polls and vote for anybody you please, and if you don't like the lineup on the ballot, you can write in somebody you do like. If you do this with the conviction you are voting for the best candidates for the jobs, you will be good citizens, deserving of the democratic government you enjoy.

But if you stay home and don't vote at all,

CYCLE

*My bay is dusky violet
Under a dawning sky:
Above the flushed mist-curtain
Venus still lingers.*

*My bay turns pale and trembles:
Chilly the fog-streams lie
Stretched over it, and stroke it
With moist white fingers.*

*My bay grows blue and amber:
Its warmth is freed by noon;
Day-star, diurnal warrior,
His fog-foe slaughters.*

*My bay lies steel and silver
Under the cream-splashed moon;
And golden-lighted vessels
Thread its dim waters.*

—MIRIAM ALLEN DEFORD.

MORNING: HOOVERVILLE, PA.

*I wake before false dawn and see the light
Of a miner's lamp paint murals in my room
It breaks the gloom to build a deeper gloom
Wherein my mind beholds a tragic knight.
His armor girds him, stiff with ancient sweat,
With sulphur stench and powdered anthracite;
His helmet plumed with flame, a foul aigrette
Plucked from a bird called carbide; garish bright,
A shield against his breast, the dinner-pail
Completes his modern coat of mail.*

*No need to rise and watch him through the glass:
His footsteps, crunching cinders as they pass,
Plod out an image unequivocal—
And there's the hulking shadow on the wall,
Moving like doom; distorted, dwarfed, grotesque—
Tekel upharsin — and a grim burlesque
Of listless cant: In His own image made.*

*Disquieted, I watch the semblance fade
As he ascends the dump of rock and grime—
The only mountain he will ever climb.*

—MARION DOYLE.

PREDICTION

*Sit where you are upon the grass and raise
Sweetly your eyes to April clouds above me,
And let me read in that translucent gaze
What miracles will follow when you love me.
We twain shall menace universal order,
Tasting more rapture than the rules allow,
And blithely overskip the sacred border
Of mediocrity that hems us now.
Given each other, we can move creation;
Glowing with double courage we shall dare
Topple dictatorships, and ease our nation
Of all the grievances it groans to bear.
I cannot yet announce when this will be,
Since thus far even you have baffled me.*

—CELESTE TURNER WRIGHT.

FICTION

you will not be good citizens, and you will not be deserving of democracy.

Passive citizenry leads eventually to loss of free citizenship. To preserve our democracy we have to participate in it. And don't think small town government is too small to be of importance in the democratic scheme of things. It's the beginning of democracy. Go back in history — go back to the Greek city state —

But if you go, I hope you take an absentee ballot. And if you stay here, I hope you vote, for your own sake and for the sake of the rest of us.

BESPATTERED ANGEL

I can think of few things meaner than rain on Easter. Women weep because they can't show off their Easter hats. And I know a woman who nearly wept because she couldn't show off her color edition — a blue cover that was supposed to be displayed on the sidewalk racks so that the visitors going up and down Carmel streets over the week end would say:

"A newspaper with a blue angel for a cover! If that isn't just like Carmel!"

But it rained, and the blue angel had to be yanked into doorways out of the storm, and the printer-publisher-husband-owner announced with uncharacteristic violence:

"That's the last color cover I print. You and Elizabeth and Whit can talk your heads off but I'm not printing another color cover. It rains every time. Look at the St. Patrick Edition—"

All right, look at the St. Patrick edition. Not as many visitors saw it as we should have liked, but the home town people saw it, and mailed it away to their friends. And as much as we enjoy showing off before the visitors, we also like putting on a splash for our fellow citizens, and those people in Hawaii, Alaska, Scotland, and on the eastern coast and in the western states who subscribe to The Pine Cone and write letters saying:

"I'm moving next week. Be sure to change my address on your records as I don't want to miss The Pine Cone."

So if we had cause to wail because our angel couldn't shine unspattered from the sidewalk racks in Carmel, we had our satisfaction in knowing that the hometowners, and distant friends got our Easter greeting nevertheless when they tore off the mail wrapper and unfolded their paper.

Elizabeth, Whit and I are not doing any talking about color covers in the vicinity of the printer-publisher-owner-boss for a few weeks until time has taken the sting out of memory. Then, casually, not as if we meant anything particularly — just gabbing — we'll mention that wouldn't a May pole make a good subject for a color cover, or how about a firecracker in the act of exploding?

SIGN PROBLEM

The real estate people complain that the house owners aren't behaving in a fair and noble manner, and that they don't have the best interest of Carmel at heart when they tack up For Rent and For Sale signs on their property.

Agents have an arrangement among themselves not to put up signs on houses they are commissioned to rent or sell as they believe these signs would be detrimental to the appearance of Carmel. But if the property owners tack up signs, the restraint on the part of the agents is to no effect.

Suppose the agents lose patience and decide to tack up signs themselves. Some of them have listings that include a good many pieces of property, and some pieces of property are listed with every agent in town.

Just lean back, close the eyes and visualize!

Civilian Defense

$288.41 Collected In Last Months Paper Drive

This can be steady income for Carmel Civilian Defense

Twenty-eight tons of paper were collected in Carmel last month as a result of the Civilian Defense Salvage Drive. And in addition to helping fill the country's need for paper, this yielded $288.41 net. $38 of this went to the Boy Scouts as their pro-rata share of paper collected. The remainder goes into the Civilian Defense fund where it is badly needed for the new siren which Carmel should have.

Schedule of Future Paper Collections

To expedite handling of paper, Alan Campbell in charge of this salvage operation has scheduled definite dates for future collections in various parts of Carmel. The collection day in each case is Saturday. April 11 is set aside to handle collections from Pebble Beach. April 18 to be devoted to Hatton Fields, Carmel Woods, Carmel Valley, Carmel Highlands, Carmel Point, and Precinct 4.

April 25 for Precincts 2 and 3 (precinct 2 is bounded by Ocean Avenue, 10th street, San Carlos and Carmel Bay.) (Precinct 3 covers the area between San Carlos, Ocean, City limits, Rio Road and Santa Lucia.) May 2 for Precincts 1 and 5 (Precinct 1 includes area between 10th Street, San Carlos, Santa Lucia and the Bay. Precinct 5 covers area between San Carlos, Ocean the Bay and the City Line.)

Please remember that this salvage operation is all being done by volunteer women workers—most of them busy housewives. A sick child, or important unexpected guests, might prevent your paper being collected on schedule. Don't get discouraged. Keep saving.

Meet Your Senior Wardens

Here's John H. Neikirk, Heading up Precinct No. 3

"Hard work," I should say so. Mr. Neikirk told our reporter apropos of his life of a Senior Warden in Carmel's Civilian Defense. "But it's certainly worthwhile to see Carmel shaping up into a community with a well knit defense organization. Precinct 3, I'm glad to say has a Warden for every block, and every Warden is doing a bang-up job of attending classes and relaying his information to residents of his block.

"We had a good start in this precinct. Before December 7th Waldo Hicks, Kenneth Stevenson, William Booker, John Gilbert and yours truly took the Civilian Defense course in Monterey, as a result we were ready to hop right on the job in Carmel and we're pleased with results to date. There's still work to be done—telling residents how to prepare for any eventuality—but it's being done just as rapidly as we can find time to do it.

"Block Wardens are busy people. They have living's to earn. They have a lot to learn in connection with Civilian Defense. And the final job of passing pertinent information along to householders can't be done over night. But nobody in the precinct 3 organization is attending movies or fixing up stamp collections when Civilian Defense work needs to be done.

Block Wardens Get Expert Fire-Fighting Instruction

Two hundred Block Wardens gathered at Sunset Auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings, April 6 and 7 for more fire-fighting instruction. Monday's lecture covered newest methods of controlling grass and forest fires. The lecturer, William Pennington, of the State Forest Service, has had years of experience in this work

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Speed up Handling of Salvage Paper

Just a few simple rules will help in the handling of paper at the warehouse and increase the net profit.

1. Tie newspapers in bundles 7 inches thick, folded as they come from the newsstand.
2. Tie magazines in bundles 7 inches thick, with sizes graduated.
3. Use heavy cord if possible. If not, use five thicknesses of string.

Experience shows that paper so wrapped handles best at the warehouse, and fits in the truck with a minimum of waste space.

and his talk was highly illuminating.

The Tuesday lecture by Paul Mercurio covered handling of fires inside the house. At the same meeting the wardens had the opportunity of seeing a demonstration by Charles Smith and William Hicks, from the office of the State Fire Marshal at Sacramento, on handling incendiary bombs.

Just another reason why Block Wardens are valuable people to know. They're doing the drudgery of attending lectures to get information you in turn can get from them for the asking.

Pieper of F. B. I. To Speak In Carmel

N. J. L. Pieper, superintendent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in northern California, will open a series of four public forums for Civilian Defense at the Sunset School Auditorium, next Friday, April 17. Mr. Pieper, one of J. Edgar Hoover's most capable assistants, will tell of Fifth Column activities and the work which constituted authority did to check them. This work, carried on by federal and local officers for months before Pearl Harbor, made possible the present steps for handling enemy aliens in California.

Securing Mr. Pieper as a speaker, Civilian Defense is inaugurating a series of forum programs to show the public what has been done and is being done for their protection. For this purpose a representative of Federal Bureau of Investigation is peculiarly appropriate. During more than a year prior to our actual entry into the War, J. Edgar Hoover's organization was carrying on a skillful anti-espionage campaign. Toward this end F. B. I. enlisted active cooperation of police departments and sheriff's offices all over America. Previous work in schooling small town and country peace officers to greater efficiency bore results in the campaign.

Mr. Pieper comes here at the invitation of Chief of Police, Roy Frates. He is well remembered on the Monterey Peninsula for previous talks on F. B. I. work. A graduate of Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., he left the practice of law and later became one of J. Edgar Hoover's staff assistants in Washington. Thereafter he headed bureau work in cities of East, Middle West and Pacific coast. He is skilled in speaking and talks with a familiarity with his subject which few criminal investigators possess. Those who hear him will get some startling and valuable information regarding subversive activities.

Busy times ahead!

YOUR GAS RANGE
WILL SEE ACTIVE DUTY ON THE HOME FRONT!

Here is a serious little woman . . . a determined little woman.

She has studied the nutrition values of foods and knows how her gas range with modern cooking methods conserves healthful minerals and vitamins. She is cooking garden-fresh vegetables by "waterless" simmer cooking and tenderizing meats with heat-controlled roasting.

She has her modern gas range on active duty in an all-out effort to utilize fully the nutritive, health-giving qualities of all food she cooks. Soon her gas range will be busier than ever with home canning and preserving.

Your Gas Range too will need to carry on. Treat it with care. Keep it in good repair.

Frank Porters Give Dinner—

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porter entertained at an Easter dinner at their home in the Valley.

For the occasion the house was literally filled with spring flowers and the table was graced with a flock of remarkable chickens, crystal with red combs.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dwigings and Diane, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abernethy, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hughes of Salinas, Mr. and Mrs. Baird Robley, Mrs. Jack Mathiot and her son, Jack.

Clarks in Atherton—

Mrs. Howard Clark, Elton and Priscilla passed Good Friday in Atherton with Mr. Clark's brother's family, the Henry E. Heyes.

While in the vicinity, Mrs. Clark called on Mr. and Mrs. Thom Neikirk in Palo Alto and saw their new daughter, Julia, born in February.

Lt. and Mrs. J. C. Forbes—

Lieutenant and Mrs. James C. Forbes, who were married in Cleveland February 28, have established their home on San Antonio between Seventh and Eighth.

They moved to Carmel from Del Monte where they passed their honeymoon.

Dauids in San Francisco—

Mr. and Mrs. Edward David and Constance spent Easter with relatives in San Francisco.

Knights in San Francisco—

Mrs. Allen Knight took her daughters, Alys Adele and Allene, to visit their great aunt, Miss Alys Miller, in San Francisco last week, and while up there the Knights also bought Easter bonnets.

Eleanor Decker Arrives—

Wednesday evening Eleanor Decker, a former Carmelite, returned to be the guest of Gretchen Neikirk for a few days.

Informal Olio—

Jadwiga Babcock gave a cocktail party and buffet supper last Friday evening to guests who were preponderantly artists from the First Theatre.

As was to be expected they originated their own entertainment, an impromptu olio that lasted far into the night.

The guests, who included most of the cast of the current thriller, "Deserted at the Altar," were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Welty, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Santa, Colonel and Mrs. Milo Matteson, Mrs. Roland Bauer, Miss Jean Humphrey, Douglas Hume, Bob McMenamin and Dick Boone.

Mrs. Dwight Morrow Leaves—

Mrs. Dwight Morrow and Miss Amey Aldrich left for New York Wednesday after spending Easter with the Dwight Morrow Jr.'s in Carmel Valley.

Easter Sunday the Morrow home was given over to two parties, one an egg hunt at which Faith and Stephen Morrow presided as hosts. Their guests were the Russell Williams' Bee, Cardo, who arrived with hair gaily tinted in bright red Easter egg dye, and Johnny, also the Frank Lloyd's Jennefer and Skipper. Parents were entertained meanwhile by Mr. and Mrs. Morrow.

Peter Elliott III to Visit—

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Elliott Jr. are expecting their son, Peter, to come up from U. C. L. A. this week end.

Ruth Kellogg Home—

Mrs. Lee Kellogg invited friends in to renew acquaintance with her daughter, Ruth, who came down from Berkeley for the holiday.

Among those who attended the tea last week were Mrs. Jack Kellogg, Mrs. T. M. Criley, Mrs. Russell Williams, and Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger.

Medical Missionaries—

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Kellersberger, who for 24 years have been medical missionaries to the lepers in the Belgian Congo, will speak in the Congregational Church, Pacific Grove, on Friday, April 17, at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting is under the auspices of the Monterey Peninsula Council of Church Women, and also the Ministerial Association. Dr. Kellersberger has been decorated by the Belgian Government for his work in African sleeping sickness, and has been received by King George of England and King Farouk of Egypt. The wife of Dr. Kellersberger is an effective platform speaker, and the author of three books, "Congo Crosses," "God's Ravens," and "Song After Sorrow."

There will be no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to hear the thrilling story of a great humanitarian project.

Doolittles Dine—

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Doolittle, Leslie and Patricia, went up the Valley Easter day to have dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Narvaez, Dissy and Rafael.

The children are ready to vote in favor of future Easter egg hunts being held indoors in view of the piles and piles of eggs they found Sunday inside the Narvaez home.

Three Forces Return—

The Ray Forces are back at home in Pebble Beach with their new daughter, Carol, who had her first glimpse of Carmel Wednesday. She was born in Palo Alto two weeks ago.

"Uncle Alec"—

Ida Jean Hyde's Uncle Alec, Mr. Alexander Hyde of San Francisco, was the guest of Ida Jean and her brother, Albert, over Easter.

Patricia Morrison Sees All—

Polly Connell served as guide for Patricia Morrison while the film actress was here over the week end to play in the USO show at Fort Ord. Monday afternoon Polly had a ringside seat at a special show which Miss Morrison gave for the Fort Ord hospitals.

Lieutenant J. Karst Connell and Polly spent four days of last week in Hollywood where Polly renewed acquaintance with her radio friends.

Frank Nourses Open House—

The Frank Nourses of San Francisco moved into their Carmel home for last week, and Miss Shelly Nourse brought Miss Mary Elinor Wells down as her guest.

Shelly and Mary Elinor are fellow seniors at Miss Burke's School.

Bridge at 2 Monday—

The Bridge Section of Carmel Woman's Club will play Monday, commencing at 2 p. m. at La Ribera.

Helen Dean's Family Here—

A picnic on the beach Saturday was a much enjoyed part of the Easter festivities of Helen Lightner Dean's (daughter, Mrs. Carl Johnston, and her two young daughters, Nancy and Carolyn, who came to Carmel for the holiday from Sacramento.

Mary Henderson and Mortimer Henderson, Jr., and Marianne Michaels shared the picnic with the Johnstons.

Maev Greenan spent Easter with her friend, Betty Quigley, in Palo Alto.

Berwicks Celebrate—

A wedding fifty years ago in London was celebrated in Carmel Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave A. Berwick are the couple, and they gave a party at their home on Monte Verde street.

Their daughter, Lynn, took colored movies of them, their guests and the anniversary cake, and their son, Horace, came down from San Francisco for the occasion and brought their grandson, David.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sorey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee and Mrs. Elizabeth King.

In observing the anniversary of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Berwick also commemorated the date of their arrival in Carmel since it was almost six years ago to the day that they established their home here.

Freddie Askew Leaves—

Freddie, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Askew, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Cornelius, in Fresno, California.

Mrs. Bracisco's Sister—

An especially welcome guest at the B. F. Bracisco home over the holiday was Mrs. Bracisco's sister, Mrs. Lee Baldwin, who arrived not long ago from Honolulu.

Jane, Peggy Henderson—

Last week Jane and Peggy Henderson of Sacramento opened the family home on Carmelo near Fifth.

Jane's fiancé, Lieutenant Gene Williams, together with several of his brother officers entertained the girls at a dinner dance Saturday night at Del Monte.

Many-Lived Guest Expected—

Mrs. Edith Greenan will go to San Francisco this week end to meet an old friend whom she hadn't expected to see again.

Several weeks ago the San Francisco Chronicle carried a story about J. H. Marsman of Hongkong reaching Chungking safely and asking that his wife be notified in San Francisco. He arrived in New York a few days ago, having got out of China nobody knows how and come by way of Cairo. The most exciting of his adventures would, however, seem to be the early ones.

Mr. Marsman had gone to Manila on business around the first of December. He had left just before the attack and gone back to Hongkong. He squeaked out of Hongkong one jump ahead of the Japanese.

Mrs. Greenan will meet the Marsmans in San Francisco this week end and expects them to come down to Carmel sometime the following week.

Mr. Bunn Surprised—

Easter Sunday, being Tom Bunn's birthday, was the occasion of a surprise party given by Mrs. Bunn. She invited a small group of friends in for cocktails and supper.

Easter Hunting—

Carmel and Pebble Beach children among the hunters for Easter eggs at Del Monte this year included the Gorhams, Stantons, Burks, Veits, Mastens and Bunn.

The Fence Is Ready—

The Girl Scouts' Victory garden at Sixth and Mission will soon be enclosed in a rabbit-defying fence. The material arrived yesterday.

Legion to Have Party—

"A Night in Little Reno" is what the American Legion is calling a party they will give tomorrow evening at the clubhouse on Dolores street.

Dancing, games and food, is the bill of fare promised by Chairman Ernie Schweninger to the invitees.

Librarians Will Hear Kippy—

All Carmel's librarians, Elizabeth Niles, Janet Dalziel, Barbara Wood and Clara Baker, will get over for some part of the librarians' conference at Del Monte this week-end.

They are naturally interested especially in tomorrow night's dinner program since the speakers will be Colonel G. W. and Kippy Stuart of Carmel. They will tell from first hand information of "Piang, MacArthur and the Philippines."

The conference is a convention of the Portola-San Francisco districts of the California Library Association.

One Doctor Lost—

Barbara Norberg received a report Tuesday from the Stanford School of Medicine that her brother, Dr. John Collins, a frequent Carmel visitor, was lost, had not, in fact, been seen since his last trip to Carmel nine days ago.

Barbara was considerably alarmed and so were her parents, the C. D. Collins of Fresno, until they had the Stanford School of Medicine searched.

The hunt, marked with reports such as, "I saw him yesterday," and "Why, he was around this morning," led to one of the laboratories. Here Dr. Collins was found to be quite well. He had been busy.

Mr. Frank Newhall of the Highlands went up to Berkeley with his house guest of two weeks, Mr. John A. Smith, and will now be his guest for a week or two.

Mrs. Ansel Fletcher's Niece—

Miss Lois Emry drove down from Stanford Saturday to be the Easter guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ansel Fletcher of Ninth and Monte Verde.

A senior at Stanford, Miss Emry lives in Spokane.

Helen Brown Ill—

Friends of Mrs. Helen Brown will be sorry to hear that she is still ill at her home in Hatton Fields.

Mrs. Rohr Has Birthday—

A group of her friends surprised Mrs. M. J. Rohr, Sr., Tuesday by gathering at her home on Lopez to give her a birthday party.

Two Army Weddings—

Carmel Mission was the setting Tuesday of two Army weddings.

Father John H. A. Sullivan of Fort Ord read a nine o'clock service uniting Catherine McKnight and John Cleary.

Jeanette Devine and Charles F. Rath were married in a later ceremony by Father Michael O'Connell.

Easter in Carmel—

Fresh from a geology trip through Death Valley, Franklin Hayford came home Easter to be with his mother, Mrs. Ann Hayford. Franklin attended San Jose State College.

Teachers' Holiday—

While many High School and Sunset teachers scattered over the state for their week-long Easter holiday, several stayed home in Carmel and played geography games.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doerr were hosts at the game-playing party last Friday evening, and their guests, who all turned out to be demon guessers, were the John Whites, Harold Bartletts, Clayton Schuttishes, Donald Craigs, George Mosolfs, and John Hobsons.

Another vacation diversion also had geographical implications since a change occurred in the Carmel map when the Schuttishes moved from Mountain View and Forest to a new home on San Mateo road in Carmel Woods.

And Mrs. Clarisse Duygou laid out and planted a Victory garden.

High School teachers who fared forth over the state included Miss Hazel Sener, who went to Woodlawn. The Wilson Getsingers drove to La Jolla with Miss Annie Edlen accompanying them to Los Angeles and Miss Mima Williamson, to San Diego. Miss Martha Groth also journeyed south to Los Angeles while Miss Alice Hoppel went to San Francisco. Mrs. Frances Johnson spent her vacation in San Jose.

From Sunset the Robert Doerrs followed Mrs. Johnson to San Jose for Easter week-end, and likewise Miss Jeanne Staffelbach, who divided her time between San Jose and her family in Palo Alto. Miss Stella Schnabel began her holiday in San Jose, bringing house guests back with her to Carmel for half the week. Miss Bernice Riley chose Oakland, Miss Eletteth McQuilkin, San Francisco, and Mrs. Edna Lockwood went to Clearlake Highlands. Miss Anna Kohner experimented with ranch life at Novato in Marin county. Miss Harriet Norman visited March Field and Santa Barbara. Several elected to stay in Carmel. These were Mrs. Ann Uzzell, Miss Lucille Burtis, Miss Estelle Bilington, Mrs. Sylvia Meeter Jordan, Mr. Harold Bartlett, who had orchestra rehearsals all week, and Mrs. Bernita Ninneman, kept busy entertaining two aunts.

Mrs. Elizabeth Frymire, who has lived with Miss Elsie Hammond for several years, is leaving the village today.

Mrs. Cranston Will Review—

Joseph Davies' "Mission to Moscow" will be reviewed next Wednesday by Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston for the Book Section of Carmel Woman's Club.

The group will meet at Hotel La Ribera at 10:30 a.m., and will be presided over by Mrs. Harry S. Nye, chairman of the section.

La Collecta Program—

Miss Flora Gifford will be in charge of the program when La Collecta Club meets Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Nellie Leyman on Mission street.

Miss Bulkley's Guest—

Interesting like their hostess, Mary Bulkley's guests are always good for an interview.

Mrs. Mary Hutchinson of San Francisco visited with her at the Breakers over Easter and, being associate representative of the Employment Security Bureau of the Social Security Board for the four western states, Mrs. Hutchinson had several things to say, especially about Women in the War Effort.

A group of Oregon women has just made an occupational inventory of all the women in the state, Mrs. Hutchinson said. And they may be called into nutritional or defense work in the not distant future, she believes, since in the past Oregon has drawn on California's excess labor supply, and now the reserves have been absorbed right here.

Mrs. Hutchinson returned from an inspection trip to Oregon recently. She said it was Mrs. Saidee Dunbar, former national president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, who conducted the inventory of Oregon's possible feminine laborers.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Moore have established a new home in San Jose. They moved last week from Carmel.

Betty Reynolds Resumes—

Back from a trip to Texas, Betty Reynolds has returned to her art studies at the Carmel Art Institute which is now situated on Ridgewood road in the Doolittle studio.

Jaime Becomes Jimmy—

Rosamond and Jaime Colomy's newly arrived son will almost but not quite be a junior. They are Anglicizing his name to James.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On Saturday, April 11, the Carmel Junior Red Cross will give a dance at 8:30 o'clock in the high school library.

A short while ago Lucian D. Scott, former teacher at Carmel High, sent a letter to the organization suggesting that the Junior Red Cross raise money for sending gifts to the men in the army hospital in Fort Richardson, Anchorage, Alaska.

Mr. Schafer, in his address to the students a few weeks ago, asked if they would send a representative of Carmel High to the annual Red Cross convention in Sacramento.

The purpose of the dance is to raise funds for these two causes.

The dance was planned by Doris Evans, chairman of the fund raising committee, and a group of assistants. Howard Levinson will be master of ceremonies.

The decorations will be in the national Red Cross colors, red and white. Admission is 40 cents, girls free.

Blue-Blue Day

"Oh!" and "Darn that teacher" were common this Wednesday at Carmel High School. Grades came out! The third quarter is over at high school.

This is the time to take stock. What has happened at high school during the last quarter? What has happened to the campus? What has the student body done?

To answer the first question: Our campus has been shooting up. Seeds of grass that we planted last fall have become a carpet of green. The buildings, though not so fast growing, are nearly ready for use.

As for the student body, it has made great progress. We put over the program "Marco Polo," and we have initiated corridor control by the students and the Student Court, and we have helped the Red Cross and National Defense.

Has not the Carmel High School done well? Are we not lucky to have such an able leader as Howard Levinson?

April 6 the first post-Easter session of Carmel High School's Student Court was held. This session

Plenty of Comedy In Movie Program

"Look Who's Laughing," starting tonight at Carmel Theatre, is advertised by its producers as "the combined mirth of the world's two top-ranking radio programs, as enjoyed by 65,000,000 listeners weekly, now brought to the motion picture public in a rousing screen frolic."

The headliners are Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Fibber McGee and Molly, with Lucille Ball for beauty and additional comedy. The companion picture, "The Gay Falcon," starring George Sanders and Wendy Barrie, is a mystery comedy. The entire program holds over until tomorrow night, with regular two o'clock Saturday matinee.

"Bahama Passage," Technicolor adventure story starring Madeleine Carroll and Stirling Hayden, opens Sunday's continuous program for a run of three days. Filmed in the British West Indies, the production required more than a hundred Hollywood players and technicians to make the long "location" journey of 4,000 miles and back, one of the longest and most costly cinematic treks on record. Coupled with the film drama is the March of Time, No. 8, "The Argentine Question."

Wednesday and Thursday, April 15 and 16, bring to Carmel Theatre a double bill, "The Night of January 16th," with Robert Preston, Ellen Drew and Nils Asther in an entertaining mirth-and-murder melange, and "The Perfect Snob," a comedy starring Lynn Bari and Charles Ruggles.

was one of the shortest that we have had; there were only three cases.

We are very proud of this fact, for we feel that the students are beginning to recognize the jurisdiction of the court and respect its authority. They are also anxious to avoid such sentences as were handed down at the last session. These ranged from a 200 word composition to 15 minutes detention and 200 word composition.

—Arnold Pilling.

Blind Show

Carmel High School students watched a demonstration of the Braille system of reading Tuesday morning as part of a benefit for the blind.

A blind xylophonist played and a trained dog performed for the school in the first program to be held in the new cafeteria. Students contributed $19.48 towards aid for the blind.

Up the Valley

Easter Week Vacationers—

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Storm of Motel Munras in Monterey, and their children, spent last week at their cottage at Robles del Rio.

Ramsdell Guests—

Mr. and Mrs. August Anderson of Watsonville spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ramsdell.

Fire Hazard Survey—

On the invitation of the civilian defense organization of the Valley, W. Pennington, assistant ranger at the Carmel Hill fire station, made a survey of the Robles del Rio area with Pat Berta Saturday. Pennington recommended action that should be taken to reduce the fire hazard in the district, and Berta will get in touch with residents to pass on Pennington's suggestions. In most cases, the hazard could be greatly reduced by removing trash from the vicinity of buildings, clearing up dead branches and dry grass, according to Mr. Pennington.

Baptismal Celebration—

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Baldwin entertained with a buffet supper Saturday night following the baptism of their granddaughter at St. John's chapel at Del Monte. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mattart, parents of the baby, Judith Isabel; Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie, Miss Arline Anderson, Miss Mary Abbott and Miss Shelby Ish of Salinas. Mrs. Mattart, the Baldwins' daughter, is well known in the Valley, though now a resident of Salinas.

Back Home—

Mrs. Cassie B. Heiliger has returned to her Valley home after a seven months' stay in Hot Springs, South Dakota, with her sister, Mrs. Minnie B. Smith, who has been seriously ill. Mrs. Heiliger and Mr. Smith are the sisters of Mrs. Warren E. Burton and Miss Bingham.

Robles del Rio Vacationers—

Among those who came with their children to occupy their cottages at Robles del Rio for Easter week were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wil-

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goss of Robles del Rio have taken a house in Carmel.

Down the Coast

All Set—

The checking kiosk at the entrance to Big Sur is completed as are a number of new camps on the south side of the river, and the park is ready for the heavy season expected by officials.

Bears Claimed—

The half-grown twin bears caught by rangers in the Big Sur last fall and housed during his absence in the warden's garage, have been claimed by an owner.

Back From South—

Warden and Mrs. R. A. Wilson of Point Lobos are expected back this week from Barago Valley where Mr. Wilson was sent on sick leave. The park is situated between Bromley and Palm Springs, and it was thought the warm weather might help him recover from a strain sustained this winter. During his absence, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hight were at the Lobos checking station. Mr. Hight is the custodian of Casa de Ora in Monterey.

Into the Service—

Assistant Warden L. Griffin left the forestry service to re-enlist in the navy last Friday. During the winter he was stationed in Big Sur, later at Point Lobos, preceding Charles Hight as substitute for Warden Wilson.

In your campaign statement, you say "No matter how efficient, or personally likeable a councilman may be, if he is off duck hunting, cultivating vegetables up the valley, or attending a convention at Palm Springs every time the voter wants to get in touch with him, he is not a good man for a small town council."

While you do not mention names, it is apparent you are referring to Councilman Fred Godwin. I have worked with Godwin for two years during which time he has been a councilman and this is the first time I have heard a voter complain about him.

Your statement that, "The man for the council is the man you can collar any time of the day to listen to your peeve," strikes me as about the silliest qualification for a councilman I have ever heard and shows how little you know of the real work the councilmen do.

The work that Fred Godwin has done may not have received as much publicity as the work credited to other councilmen but the work credited to an individual councilman is the result of the combined study and counsel of all the councilmen and Godwin has given his full share to everything the council has considered and you probably would be surprised if you knew the time the councilmen give to the voters in addition to the hours at council meetings.

Nurses Aid

Those wishing to enroll as Volunteer Nurses Aides please do so immediately as the Red Cross wishes to start classes as soon as possible.

Miss Katherine Bier, Nurses Aide chairman in Carmel, will take registrations at the Carmel Red Cross headquarters.

Miss K. Smits, superintendent of nurses at the Peninsula Community Hospital—where the practical training is given—acts in advisory capacity, and Miss Loken is the instructor.

The course is given at La Playa Hotel, is an 80 hour course consisting of 35 hours of theory and 45 hours of practical training. Primary requisites are good health, graduation from high school, age limits 18 to 50, physical examination. Such personality traits as acceptance of discipline, dignity, neatness of appearance, ability to keep confidence, are also taken into consideration. It is obligatory to give 150 hours of service at the hospital each year after the course is completed, and these may be given within a three month period if desired.

The function of the Nurses Aide is to relieve and assist the regular nurses. She is instructed in hospital routine, admitting and releasing patients, bedmaking, bathing, feeding patients in various positions, making patients comfortable and in helping the patient to adjust himself to hospital routine. She is taught to observe symptoms and report them to the nurse or doctor. She learns care of hospital equipment, treatment trays, making dressings. She takes information in the emergency ward, and assists the public health and school nurse when needed.

Canteen Appeal

A group of Monterey Peninsula women under Red Cross supervision is organizing an emergency canteen. A trailer has been procured to be used as the first unit of a mobile canteen. The following articles are needed to equip the trailer, and citizens are asked to search their cupboards and bring any of these articles they can spare to the canteen trailer which will be in the lot adjoining the post office Friday, April 17.

Heavy coffee pots with spigot, approximately 9 gallons. Sauce pans, 1 and 2 quarts. Pancake turns, 14 inches. Trays. Folding tables. Baskets (market type with handle). Bulletin board. Stoves, kerosene or gas. Soup ladle, 9 inch plates, tin or enamel. Large colander. Coffee pots for serving, 2 gals. Bowls for sugar. Knife sharpeners. Teaspoons and soup spoons. Bowls for soup, 2 inches deep, 8 inches in diameter. Large stock pots. Picnic cups, tin or enamel.

Measuring cups. Long handled barbecue forks. Spoons, long handled, measuring, serving. Water pails, 3 gal. Long handled ladles. Wall-type can openers. Large baking pans, 2½ inches deep. Bread boards, large. Large mixing bowls, 9 quarts. Meat grinders, 3 lb. capacity. Sandwich spreaders. Dish-towels. Shears. Quart measures, 1 and 2 quarts. Eggbeaters (wire). 9 inch black steel frying pans. Knives, paring, butcher, bread. Tin cups or enamel, 10 or 12 ounce. Tin or enamel plates, 9 inch. Large pitchers, preferably enamel. Large kettles, 10 gallons. Large dish-pans, 15 quarts. Large chopping bows. Cutting board. Pot holders. Hammers. Garbage cans, 20 gallon, new. Cream pitchers, 1 gallon.

Bright Students

Dr. McCabe is very proud of his latest graduating class in Advanced First Aid. The class was given for policemen, started with an enrollment of 44, 36 of whom completed the course. The average grade for the course was 94.6 per cent, and nine of the students got 100 per cent.

Very Important Notice

Registration for a new Standard First Aid class was begun last night, and it was decided that the class will be held on Monday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of the Wayfarer on Lincoln street in Carmel. Additional people wishing to take this course may still join by registering at the next lecture (Thursday evening) or by registering at Red Cross headquarters up until next Monday, April 13.

Registration for the new Advanced First Aid course began last Tuesday evening at the Church of the Wayfarer. Enrollees who were unable to be present then may also enroll up to next Monday at Red Cross headquarters. Mrs. McCabe will be the instructor.

A First Aid Station manned by three groups of First Aid Post Workers operating in shifts of one hour each will demonstrate their preparedness to care for any casualty in this community under the supervision of Mrs. W. H. McCabe and Mr. Fraser Hancock.

Yerkes Leading Abalone League Batting Champs

At the end of five games Norval Yerkes has emerged as the leading club wielder of the Abalone league. Yerkes has garnered 10 hits in 13 tries to have a substantial lead over Cedric Rowntree.

In the ladies' division Frances Brewer has collected 11 hits in 21 times at bat for a healthy .524 average. Frances has also collected 11 runs to put her well up with the leaders in that department.

Jimmy Kelsey leads the high school boys with a grand average of .636. Jimmy is also well up with the leaders in the hit department, being second only to Cedric Rowntree.

An even .500 average gives Max Hodges a lead over the rest of the grammar school boys participating in the league. Max's hitting and fielding have been instrumental in keeping the Tigers near the top of the league.

The Giants, with an average of .559 as a team, lead the rest of the league, but are closely followed by the Pilots and Tigers with averages of .553 and .552 respectively.

The next Abalone league games will be held on April 12 with the Giants meeting the Pilots at 1:45 and the Tigers meeting the Shamrocks at 3.

Local Hunters Bag Predatory Animals

Carmel sportsmen have had an active part in the drive to eradicate predatory animals, according to Lloyd Lemon, who as chairman of the predatory committee made a report recently to the Peninsula's Sportsmen's club.

Of the 19 bob cats bagged, Milton Kastor got three. He was also responsible for the one lion killed this quarter. Lemon himself got 10 out of 14 Cooper hawks, and eight of the 15 squirrels, and a water snake. The latter is highly destructive to young trout.

Among other game destroying animals killed this quarter were six coyotes, four skunks which consume birds' eggs, and an owl.

The drive is a contest, and members of the organization are bringing in their catches to Lemon's in Carmel, MacFarlane's in Monterey, Roy Wright in Pacific Grove and Charles Beatty in Sea-side.

Philippine Movie Scheduled Tonight

(Continued from page 1) which is the official organization of the Filipinos in this area, recognized by the office of the Philippine resident commissioner in Washington and the American National Red Cross to raise funds to be used for Philippine war relief.

Griffin's film was taken with the cooperation of General MacArthur and President Quezon and was completed just before the Japanese invasion.

It is a cavalcade of Philippine progress made under the capable tutelage of the United States, from the time of Admiral Dewey's victory at Manila Bay to Gen. MacArthur's last minute preparations for defense of those ramparts of democracy from the common enemy.

First Theatre Dark To Open On April 17 With 'Deserted' Again

The First Theatre, Monterey, will be dark this week-end, as there will be no further showing of "Deserted at the Altar" until April 17, 18, 19, when the curtain will again go up on the old melodrama.

On April 17, two new olio acts will be added to the "best olio yet" of the Troupers of the Gold Coast.

Leading Citizens For Candidates

(Continued from page 1) stock said, "He is a good citizen of Carmel. He has the community interest at heart, and is representative of our good citizens."

"He's a conscientious man," said Harry E. Farley, another McIndoe sponsor, "he's well suited to the job."

W. G. Billinger: "I have known him since he first came to town. He's a good square fellow and isn't afraid to express his belief."

"I've seen him come up in business through hard work. He's practical, fair and open minded, and you can get a direct yes or no out of him," says Dr. John Gray.

Others who tacitly expressed their respect for and confidence in McIndoe by signing his petition for candidacy are: Major G. H. Totten, J. E. Abernethy, General D. W. Hand, John Jordan and F. R. Bechdolt.

Newberry

Ida Newberry's sponsors are enthusiastic. Mrs. Arthur T. Shand states:

"I've known her as long as she's been here. I would like to have someone on the council who would carry out Perry Newberry's ideas. She would help to keep Carmel's charm."

"She is quiet, but has courage of her convictions, and is willing to make a stand. We need a woman on the board, in the department of health and safety. A woman would be willing to go to more trouble than a man. A woman is usually more attentive to detail."

Bert Heron: "Ida Newberry knows and appreciates the best in Carmel—the things that have made and kept it (so far) one of the choice places of the world to live. She will do all in her power to prevent the inevitable changes in a growing town from cancelling the beauty which made it grow."

"Anyone who has been in the community as long as Mrs. Newberry, with a husband who was the exemplification of Carmel, should make a good councilwoman."—Dr. F. V. Randol.

Mrs. Dorothy Bigland: "I admire what she stands for. She is just the woman for the position."

Other Newberry sponsors are: John Bathen, Camilla Daniels, Hurd Comstock, Paul C. Prince, John B. Jordan.

P. A. McCreery

Daisy Bostick: "I think he's worked hard and unselfishly. Don't know of a better man."

Mrs. Paul Flanders: "He's done a fine job with the street work. I think he's sincere and anxious for the good of Carmel."

Arthur T. Shand: "He's shown up well in the years he's been in. A Regular Fellow. I think he's O. K."

Wick Parsons: "One of the best we've ever had for that job. He's a conscientious worker and I think he will continue to be of great value to Carmel."

Others on the McCreery lineup were Bernice B. Fraser, Rose E. Bonham, Eva Sorey, Gladys E. Berwick and Richard W. Johnson.
